

Tekskil Speech Prompter Conversion Kit

With the S10 or S20 Speech Prompter Conversion Kit you get additional use out of your Tekskil tripod mounted Prompter Head

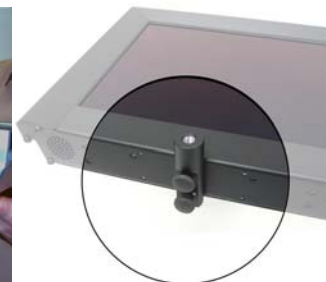

Conversion Kit comes complete with:

- Stub adapter
- Three section Monopole
- Beamsplitter with variable angle Adjustor
- Drapery Support Rod
- Privacy Curtain

The Tekskil Executive Speech Prompter is ideal for live speeches or presentations made from a podium or a stage. Dual-display setup affords the presenter two script-reading locations, thus allowing for a very natural delivery. The LCD display panels, enclosed in robust machined metal enclosures, project upward onto panes of glass (beamsplitter) suspended on extendable poles. These screens are practically invisible to the audience and the flat screen floor monitors used to scroll the script are stationed low to the ground for less visibility.

What are the benefits of using an Executive Speech Prompter?

- No pressure on the talent to memorize.
- Eliminates the need for notes or cue cards.
- Allows speaker to focus on style & delivery.
- Enables speaker to maintain eye contact and build rapport with the audience.
- Permits last minute changes to material
- Makes consistent delivery of complex material a snap.

Installation is as simple as lifting the panel from the extruded rail and bolting on a simple stub adapter with the supplied thumbnuts. Tekskil has made this an easy conversion kit to install on your existing Tekskil LCD prompters.
